When a model changes its answer, does it depend on whether the data is really biased?
Bars: % of answers that switched. Red ≠ grey = switching depends on the data; red ≈ grey = it doesn't.
Right: red − grey, in percentage points. Only models with 10+ switches are shown.